Dear Lonnie R.:

Thank you for your continued support of the future workforce by serving in the important role on Metalworking Technical Committee (MET-TEC) at Pinellas Technical Education Center - Clearwater Campus. Your contributions have not gone without notice and so we are proud to award TSE Industries with our new, national distinction as a NIMS Ready business.

Through the generosity of companies like yours, who have volunteered time, manpower, and expertise to inspect the NIMS projects that students complete, we have awarded over 85,000 credentials to students, apprentices, and trainees. In 2014 alone, we awarded nearly 19,000 credentials and your volunteer inspectors are at that heart of that success.

Enclosed with this official congratulatory note, you will find a certificate to display this formal recognition of TSE Industries as an international leader and trailblazer for developing a globally competitive, 21st Century workforce. The future of U.S. Manufacturing is looking brighter than ever thanks to front runners like you and the workforce who support your daily operations

I join with the entire NIMS community and greater manufacturing industry in conveying our thanks and appreciation. For more information, please visit www.nimsready.org.

Sincerely,

James A. Wall
